Project Management

Developments whether they are large or small can often be complex and may require the involvement of a myriad of consultants to achieve a result. At KFW we have experience in managing a wide range of development projects in both the residential and commercial genres. Our project managers carry the knowledge to understand the development application process and have the ability to draw in the required consultants to help you achieve the result you desire.

In being flexible within the extended development market we have been able to successfully adapt our skills to execute client side project management for large infrastructure organisations and construction project management of buildings and estates

Residential and Commercial Projects

- First point of contact
- Council and governmental liaison
- Engagement of necessary consultants
- Making of applications
- Review of applications
- Team meetings
- Communication of outcomes to you
- Bill of quantities creation and review
- Payment Authorisation for financial institutions

Client side and Construction Management

- Site checks and inspections
- Reporting
- Quality Control
- Real time responsiveness and problem solving
- Supplier engagement
- Accountability
- Certification

Our website www.kfw.net.au provides an extended portfolio of individual projects that we have managed in the past. Further, we are able to notify you of the individuals responsible for the results of these projects. This ensures you are able to speak directly with the person of interest. Please note that we are not confined to the list of adjacent services. This is just a start.
